ANTI-CASTRO — Robert

Cates, Miami sailor who has dedicated himself to helping Cubans rid their hapless island of communism, was in town yesterday picketing the White House urging re-establishment of the blockade. Mr. Cates said he has given House investigators information that the U. S. had 100 unmarked old bombers ready to aid the Bay of Pigs invasion, but at the last minute they were grounded. He says he is going to extend his anti-Castro campaign to the United Nations in New York.
